Biography I am a 2016 Graduate from Fort Hays State University where I received my Bachelor of Science in Animal Science and minor in Communication.

About my Organization The Company, which began operations of its pork processing plant in January 2006 in St. Joseph, Missouri, is producer owned. The state-of-the-art facility, processing 6 million hogs each year, is one of the newest and most technologically advanced facility in the United States. Featuring the latest food quality and safety innovations and improvements the Company prides itself on producing only the highest quality pork products found in the market today.

With a dedicated workforce of 2,800 employees Triumph Foods provides a variety of pork products both domestically and internationally to some of the highest quality food producers in the world. This commitment to quality and the dedication of our workforce is what separates Triumph Foods from others in the industry.
